Last week

Outstanding effort last week with adverse weather conditions. I thought the day went great! Thank you for being flexible and understanding. Great performance!

Educational/Life Thought for this week

- No one person in the band is more important than another. We are all a team. Our success is interrelated. This includes performers, prop helpers, staff, parents, and fans.
- This week, being responsible, kind, and mature will be graded. It will be a large sum of points equal to or greater than the amount of points we have accumulated at performances this season. Find ways to demonstrate you understand what is expected of you.
- Everyone deserves to be treated with respect and dignity. There is never a reason for a student to yell, boss, or talk rudely to another member or adult.
- When presented with a situation of stress, frustration, disappointment or anger, you have a choice to make on how you respond. The situation may be out of your control. However, how you respond to that situation is your choice. Choose wisely! Last week, we chose to respond to the weather with humor and determination. It resulted in one of the greatest experiences in my 18 years as a band director. Translate that to the other areas of your life.
- Four weeks is the maximum amount of time this version of the Brigade has left together. After that, the group changes again forever. How do you want to spend this time? I suggest we spend it having fun, working hard, and improving the most we can. Again, you can do that in life as well. We all only have so much time. Choose what you spend your time on wisely. Be Unbroken in hard times. Take the high road when you get the chance. Make someone's job easier. Make good choices.
- Being responsible and mature has not been a strong aspect of this group. It is something we can fix immediately. Everyone can lead in this area. It takes no talent to be responsible and mature. Act like a champion! When people see Blackhawk Brigade across your shirt, let your actions off the field educate them on what we stand for and who we are. These traits are way more important than trophies, scores, or placements. Good enough is usually neither good or enough.

Good, better, best. Never let it rest. Until your good is better, and your better is best.
